Democratic Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM J. BRYAN,
OF NEBRASKA.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
ARTHUR SEAWELL, OF MAINE.

W. E. RUSSELL, ex-Governor of Massachusetts, died suddenly of heart disease at a pleasant resort in Canada last Wednesday night.

Mr. WATERBORN's telegram to the Courier-Journal to "stand firm" only serves to solidify and make the Democracy of Kentucky more determined than ever.

HERB. MOSE, the champion anarchist, has declared himself for the gold standard. Who said the silver ranks contained all the leaders of anarchy and rebellion?

YOUNG Democrats should organize the Democratic Clubs all over Ohio county. Nothing serves better to preserve the organization of the party. Organize for the campaign at once.

They do say that the subscribers to the Courier-Journal are dropping off by the score in the rural districts. It is Canada last Wednesday night.

The inquiry is being passed around by his political enemies asking who is Seawell. We state nothing save a fact when we say that Mr. Seawell is quite as well known publicly as Mr. Hobart, who was nominated on the Republican ticket for the same office.

If the preponderance of opinion is so great throughout the country in favor of the gold standard, as the gold-bug press is trying so hard to demonstrate by interviews with "prominent business men" whence comes the overwhelming silver sentiment which has recently manifested itself?

MR. WATERBORN, now of Switzerland and Mr. Waterborn in his editorial chair at Louisville a few years since—what a distinction! How have his views on the currency question then and now. Then he was for bimetalism and now he is for the single gold standard. The Switzerland breeches have had a bad effect on him.

THERE is a newspaper published in Louisville whose editors have of late been a curious jangle. Heretofore of stalwart Democratic faith, it has recently taken about, repudiated former utterances, and now seems bent upon nothing quite so zealously as disrupting the very party which erstwhile it received its hearty support. Verily, the Courier-Journal is losing its grip.

A DEMOCRATIC daily paper will soon be started in Louisville, the first issue to appear about August 15. It will be known as the Louisville Democrat and will advocate the free coinage of silver and other Democratic principles and will be edited by Mr. Dan E. O'Sullivan, the present editor of the O'Connell. It is certain to receive a hearty support in Kentucky.

The special illustrated edition of the Park City Times of last week is most voluminous and complete paper of the kind that has lately come to our office. Its sixteen pages are gems of art in the topographical line, while dozens of portraits and many columns of ads. stand out as splendid evidences of the prosperity of the little city and its people. Messrs. Ringo and Lewis are bringing the Times up to the highest merit of its journalism.

PERHAPS no procedure is held in such contempt or abhorrence as the putting of words into an adversary's mouth which he did not utter, or the paraphrasing of an utterance into conveying a meaning which was not intended. This has special application nowadays to those interviews held by gold-bug newspapers with "prominent individuals" anent the money question. The views may be stated, but the office is usually staffed by the Courier-Journal.

On the first page to-day we present our readers a very striking and true likeness of the Democratic nominees for President and Vice President. As types of courageous intelligence and splendid manhood they stand forth in clear outlines and as champions of the cause of liberty and freedom, their utterances are no less open and sincere. Mr. Bryan is a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and neither drinks, chews tobacco nor smokes.

The Courier-Journal and the Post ought to be "boy-crushed" that is, they should be crushed together and be thrown over the political chertose to see which could "spit" the hardest, woe the loudest and pull the most hair. Their senseless tirade against humanity in general and Democracy in particular, which reminds one more of a feline fight than the dispassionate presentation of a question, in that there is more fuss than facts. Boy-crush the critics!

WM. J. BRYAN, the stalwart young Democrat, is gaining in vote and influence wherever he is seen and heard. The plain personality of the man, his unpretentious manner and simplicity of speech, appeal strongly to the great masses of the people, who are not so much interested in the words of the speaker as in the facts of the case.

These remarks were directed at the Courier-Journal, but owing to the neighbors and the geography of the situation, of course apply to gold men as well.

It is the supreme contempt, this ascription of intelligence and manhood to those who so completely disgust the residents of the great South and West. God's smiles, through the sunshine that each brightens the homes of these maligned people, never come upon men more blessed with intelligence or more fit to "exercise the full franchise of citizenship of the United States."

But this has been the bent of the argument of the gold men. McKimley is also on questions that most concern the public. Bryan stands forth in all the courageousness of his young manhood and proclaims his convictions in tones of eloquence that thrill his every hearer.

Yes, there is quite a difference between the two men. The difference between the two men is the difference between the two men.

The People's Party National Convention is now in session at St. Louis. It is quite likely it will formally endorse Bryan and Seawell. No such good opportunity has presented itself for the Populists to the cause of free silver, which they have so earnestly championed.

Senator Teller has declared himself for Bryan and says he will not permit his name to go before the St. Louis Convention. If the Populists fail to endorse Bryan and free silver it will be through the influence of the Courier-Journal.

We have it from a trustworthy source that the Courier-Journal is very unfair in its reports of the interview given out in that paper. On one occasion noticeably a reporter was sent out on one of the Courier-Journal in Louisville to obtain the views of the Democracy on the money question and the reporter returned with the opinions of 84 voters. According to our informant that is the number of the 84 for Bryan and 4 for the single gold standard. The 4 were reported and the 80 were left unreported. If this is untrue we accord the Courier-Journal space to refute the charge. If true, the people ought to know the facts in the case.

We gleaned from the same source the fact that Louisville politics is much more favorable to Democracy than it was last fall. In fact, our informant who is a newspaper man at Louisville, says that he believes instead of that city going 5,000 Republican, as it did last year, the Democratic party will come out of that city with a majority for W. J. Bryan.

The Democratic party is at present undergoing a special test. Many of its most prominent party members are just now in a wild state of mutiny bordering on anarchy, each professing to advocate the purest Democratic doctrine, and neither regarding the principle of free silver in Jeffersonian principle. Yes, this may be best for the ultimate success and integrity of the party. It will serve its purpose of purging the organization of its most objectionable and dangerous members. They will then be so weak as to what its platform means or where its members stand upon all public questions. Out of the turmoil and strife, bickering and confusion will come a new party, more united and more sincere in its organization, more in its integrity and patriotism, whose followers will know no creed or belief save that of DEMOCRACY; who will rise to no question save that which threatens the sanctification of the principles which constitute that cherished name. God hasten the day when a Democrat's honor and party fealty will not be impugned by a fellow-Democrat.

A LITTLE pamphlet has come to our desk from the money center of the East, headed "Patriotism and the Money Question." It is a pamphlet of the kind that is usually published by the Courier-Journal.

Every man who wants prosperity, every man who is a patriot, who is putting down the anarchist and free silver conspirators, who seek to ruin the country and its industries, "Anarchists and free silver conspirators," "country yaps" and "free silver cranks" are some of the choice terms used to express the absolute contempt the gold-bugs have for the followers of bimetalism.

The ordinary free silver man who is temperate in his views, this senseless and unbecoming tirade against humanity in general and Democracy in particular, which reminds one more of a feline fight than the dispassionate presentation of a question, in that there is more fuss than facts. Boy-crush the critics!

OLD-BUG VS SILVER BEETLE.

In a recent issue of the New York Commercial Advertiser, in its regular column on the currency question, it said:

The fact is, and the source intelligent people are well acquainted with, that the Courier-Journal, by its chummy sound of Missouri and Kentucky, is not only a source of information, but a source of information.

These remarks were directed at the Courier-Journal, but owing to the neighbors and the geography of the situation, of course apply to gold men as well.

It is the supreme contempt, this ascription of intelligence and manhood to those who so completely disgust the residents of the great South and West. Dr. "Gumbo" Hunter says he is a candidate for Congress in the Third District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic Convention August 2, county convention August 2, and district convention August 2.

What about that pledge he gave last winter to Populist Edgington that if elected to the Senate he would not be bested even to have silver restored to the position it occupied prior to 1873?
